ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Christine Perey is a freelance associate of Informa Telecoms & Media. She is an analyst with over 15 years experience in new and emerging multimedia communications markets. She is a regular contributor to Informa's Mobile Media information service.

Christine was the publisher and editor of The QuickTime Forum from 1991-1993 and the founder of The QuickTime Movie Festival. She has authored over 100 feature articles on the topic of multimedia communications and is frequently quoted in trade and business media. Christine is an invited speaker at industry events and serves on panels and committees dedicated to the advancement of rich media experiences in business and consumer markets. She co-authored the Personal Mobile Video Communications market research report published by Wainhouse Research in 2006.

PEREY Research & Consulting builds and leads teams conducting and applying market research. Component and systems vendors, network operators and value added service providers rely on Perey Research to tap emerging multimedia technology trends, identify and assess opportunities, and to devise and implement new business development strategies in light of these opportunities.
